

PROPOSALS
BY JOSEPH M. SANDERSON,
for publishing by subscription,
A BIOGRAPHY OF THE SIGNERS
TO THE
Declaration of Independence,
ACCOMPANIED WITH PLATES;
To which will be annexed a history of the proceedings of Congress during the passage of the law, and the Declaration itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures.

By PAUL ALLEN, Esq.

TO THE PUBLIC.
It seems a little surprising that amongst so many subjects as have been presented for American Biography, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to the Declaration of Independence have been overlooked or disregarded. The eyes of hundreds have dwelt with rapture upon the document that announced to the world that these United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free, sovereign, and independent states; while we are better acquainted with the handwriting than with the characters of many of those illustrious men who have added their signatures to that instrument. The founders of the only remaining republic on the globe, have, with few splendid exceptions, gone to their graves, and it behoves a generous posterity, ensible of their obligations, to preserve their fame. The longer we neglect the payment of so sacred a debt, the more difficult does the payment become. — Traits of individual character are fugitive and evanescent; and if they are not watched by the hand of the Biographer, as at an early season, from the cold grasp of death, will soon partake of the oblivion of the body.
It is not the object of the present attempt, to deal in that profusion of indiscriminate and unsparing panegyric, so often and so easily dignified with the name of Biography; we wish to represent the characters as they were; they stand in need of panegyric; and we earnestly solicit from the surviving relations and friends of those revolutionary patriots all the information that will tend to a development of character.
Life is the creature of circumstance, and we wish to show the progress of those patriotism from their first resistance of colonial aggression, until they stood forth the noble and undaunted champions of their country's independence. All this can only be done by a familiar acquaintance with the lives of these men, and whoever of the surviving friends or relatives will furnish facts and circumstances in their possession to unfold and illustrate their characters, shall be entitled to a copy of the work as a recompense. It is contemplated, wherever it is practicable, further to embellish the mediated work with correct likenesses of the subjects of our biography, executed by the most eminent artists in the country. For this purpose we again solicit the assistance of their surviving relatives and friends. If they will transmit to the publisher any engraving or portrait from which a copy may be taken, the original shall be faithfully returned, and shall likewise be remunerated with a copy of the work. In the first number it is proposed to give an account of the Declaration of Independence, from the first motion that was made on the floor of congress until its final passage into a law, a period embracing much curious and secret history; finally, we promise to add to our first number the Declaration of Independence itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures. We have now compendiously stated the objects of our present undertaking, and we hope that it will be unnecessary to mention that no exertions on our part shall be spared.

The public are now in possession of our project, which does indeed seem to be demanded, by the avidity so recently displayed for the possession of the Declaration of Independence, since it is of very little importance to become acquainted with a man's life and writing without a previous knowledge of the man. The secret history of our Declaration of Independence, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to that instrument, accompanied by their likenesses, and finally the Declaration itself with facsimile of the signatures, will bring into one compact view the prominent facts of that interesting crisis.

EXCHANGE BANKING HOUSE, AND BROKER'S OFFICE,
Bridge-street, Georgetown.
THIS is intended as a permanent establishment, and the community will find it one of the greatest conveniences in the United States, and of great public utility.
At this house the fair exchange on the different bank notes from every part of the union can at all times be had: It is to be hoped that, by the operations of this office, the community will get rid of those idle stocks, Shavers, Secret and Running Brokers, who infest the District, frequently proclaiming the failure of country solvent banks, for the express purpose of purchasing the notes of such institutions at great discounts. Business under the following heads will be transacted. This establishment possesses funds to negotiate for any amount, and all business done for cash.
1st. All bank checks, bills at sight, post notes not due, and bank notes from all parts of the United States, bought and sold.
2d. All notes, bills of exchange, dividends and interests, collected and remitted according to orders.
3d. The notes of the United States' bank and all of its branches received at par.
4th. Strangers, citizens, and others, may deposit current money for safe keeping—and it left for thirty days, or longer, will receive at the rate of six per cent. per annum for the same.
5th. All business in the line of a money broker promptly attended to for a small commission.
6th. All southern and western traders, bringing to the district large sums of southern and western bank notes, can deposit for safe keeping, and draw for the same as may suit their convenience.
7th. Prompt attention paid to the orders of all respectable brokers and exchange offices throughout the United States—who will please to favor me occasionally with their rates of exchange on bank notes and bills.

Exchange & Broker's Office.
Georgetown, District of Columbia.
ROMULUS RIGGS:
AT his office, next door below Craw-ford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Bank at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U.
States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and West, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns.—All persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeiters on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long been failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Gone to the Southward or Westward.
A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two week ago, by a man of the name of Bassel. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.
HANNAH DETCHER.
Alexandria, October 6, 1818.

To the Public.

AN unusual sensibility has been excited in the minds of our countrymen by the copper plate engraving of the Declaration of Independence recently published, accompanied by fac-similes of the signatures of those illustrious patriots who framed the document by which our independence was announced to the world. We feel, while we dwell on those signatures, as if we were submerged in the immediate presence of characters so exalted, and we seem for a time to participate in all the emotion which they felt on the approach of so awful a crisis—Hostile armies, desolate fields, towns and cities in conflagration—carnage and death in its most frightful forms appeared in prophetic vision on the one hand, and more than all, the complicated horrors, ignominy and slavery were presented for their acceptance on the other; they deliberated; they paused; they trembled, and at last solemnly appealing to the God of battles, they resolved that the United States were and ought to be free, sovereign and independent. These illustrious patriots, with five solitary exceptions, have now mingled with the common mould—they survive only in their country's glory and in the recollection of a grateful people. But it would be consoling to the present generation, separated as they now are from those patriots, by the intervention of the tomb, to become more intimately acquainted with their revolutionary benefactors. We love to dwell on the features of such men, snatched by the pencil from the oblivion of the grave, and emulate the prominent traits of their biography. Impressed with these ideas, the subscriber proposes, if suitable encouragement is given, to publish the lives of those patriots in numbers, until the whole is completed. The work will be executed in a style not inferior to any European productions, and the portraits by masters of ac-knowledgeed merit. The biography will be written by Paul Allen, Esq. whose intimacy with the several signers, whose familiarity with the privations and hardships they had to undergo, and whose well known talents will be sufficient to ensure the patrousage of an enlightened people. In the execution of this work, all that the publisher dares to promise is, that he will endeavor to deserve the confidence of his countrymen, and that no exertion on his part will be wanting to prevent an abuse of that confidence. He ventures to solicit the assistance of those gentlemen in possession of authentic facts and anecdotes, by communicating the intelligence that will serve to illustrate the characters and to enrich the biography of those founders of the American Republic.—Those who are in possession of their portraits would enlarge the obligation by a loan of the same.
A prospectus with the terms will be given in a few days.

JOSEPH M. SANDERSON, 48, Market-street, Baltimore.
Any printer who will publish this notice and become responsible for five subscribers, shall receive one copy of the work.

Ten Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber about the 4th of August, a Negro Woman LOUIZA—she is 35 years old, about 5 feet five inches high, and stout; has some of her front teeth out, and is apt to laugh when spoken to; she has a sister Marinda and another living in Georgetown, one above Seymour's tavern, and the other on Herring Hill, where she has been harbored for two weeks, and left there to come home, but has not done so. I expect she can be found in Georgetown or Alexandria, where she has many acquaintances. I will give the above reward if brought home, or lodged in jail so that I get her again.

The National Register
IS a paper which is published, every Saturday, at the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia, and each number contains sixteen pages octavo, in small but very legible type. It takes two volumes in the year; and every volume is accompanied with a copious index. The price per annum is five dollars, payable in advance.
The Public Documents, both foreign and domestic; the proceedings of Congress, and authentic news of every description, are regularly inserted therein, and accompanied by critical and explanatory remarks. Its value is also enhanced by occasional reviews of literary works; and all its sentiments are decidedly American, independent of all party considerations. For this work, which is well established, regularly published, and transmitted weekly to subscribers by the mail, the public patronage is respectfully solicited.

Written by a young gentleman of Virginia.
Tune—"Oh no, my love, no!"

While my heart feels emotions new, thrilling and holy,
That you, lovely fair one, alone could excite.

My pen that but late was obedient to folly, While it writes of your beauties yet trembles to write:

For sure while my heart feels the wild throbbing stranger,
My pen must partake of its tremulous glow:
Yet think you my spirit suspects any danger.

From beauty so heavenly?—Oh no, my love, Yet, oh! while the gay world's attractions impel you,

Where many will court you, and swear they are true, Forgive the warm pulse which compels me to tell you

My life and its hopes are devoted to you:— Tho' death's icy touch must congeal my heart's bleeding,

If e'er on another hand you bestow, Yet think you my spirit, while life is receding,

Shall e'er cease to bless you?—Oh no, my love, no!

The good, were very good—the bad

MARRIED.

On Monday, the 28th ult. Mr. Darby Daniel McClean, of this town, a pensioner, to Miss Margaretta S. Mackenna, of Rathfriday. The bride was to have been married on the same day to another lover, one

James Locke, and had arrived at an appointed time and place in Newry, where the ceremony was to have been performed. The favoured swain, however, did not appear, and the lady's hostess in Bridge street communicated to her the lamentable tidings, that he had already married, and had gone, she believed, to visit his wife, then a prisoner in Arnagh. Margaret wept, sighed deeply, and exclaimed, "never will I return to Rathfriland unmarried; if I do not get a husband, I will drown myself, and this will be the last day of poor Margaretta McKenna!" "O, (said the hostess,) I wish honest Darby Dan McClean were here! he also is crossed in love, and talks of death.

Perhaps he would marry you; 'tis better to wed than die." A word to the wise suf-ficeth. Margaretta speeded on the wings of love, to Darby's dwelling, whom she found penitently leaning on his arm, and ruminating deeply on his misfortune. "Why are you so sad, Darby?" quoth Margaretta.—

"My love has jilted and deserted me," replied Darby with a sigh. "So has mine," rejoined Margaretta with a sob. "I cannot, I will not survive it," quoth Darby. "I will either be drowned or be married today," murmured Margaretta. The voice was in unison with Darby's feelings; he looked wistfully on the dark, languishing, yet sparkling eyes of the love-lorn maid, and sympathized in her sorrows. Sympa-

ALEXANDRIA

FRIDAY, JANUARY 29, 1819.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON
Thursday, January 28.

Of yesterday's proceedings in the house, it will be abundantly sufficient for your readers' curiosity to learn, that Mr. Strother finished a speech of three hours, and was followed by Mr. Walker, of North Carolina, whose speech being shorter, gave more satisfaction, and who left the house for Mr.

Rhea "to bustle in." Mr. Rhea will, in all probability, make my to-morrow's task as easy and as light as that I now send you.

We understand that George Williams, esq. of Baltimore, has resigned his seat as a director of the Bank of the United States.

BY THE CAROLINE AUGUSTA.

United States' Consulate.

Gottenburg, Nov. 17, 1818.

To captain Robert Henry, of brig Caroline

Augusta.

"I beg leave to refer you to the annexed extract of an official letter received by me last evening from Christopher Hughes, jr.

esquire, the charge d'affaires of the United States at Stockholm, the contents whereof

I am the more anxious you should know, as the orders relative to the Treaty of Commerce between the United States and Sweden, are until this moment not arrived at Gottenburg. If they do arrive during the period of your stay here, I will lose no time in communicating to you the event—but if you sail previous, I beg you will have the goodness to take this letter with you to the U. S. as a proof before the owners of the vessel under your command, that I have not neglected their interest, and that the monies paid beyond the stipulations of the treaty will eventually be refunded.

"I will further be obliged to you by communicating the intelligence to those of the American gentlemen interested in the question whom you might find an opportunity of addressing, and who have had ships at this place cleared out since the period at which the operation of the treaty ought to have begun.

I am, &c. C. A. MAURY."

THE EXTRACT.

Stockholm, 11th Nov. 1818.

"Sir—I have the honor to acknowledge your letter of the 7th, and, in reply, to inform you, that I have only this day received an answer to a note which I addressed to the minister of foreign affairs, on the 3d of Nov. representing the inconvenience which has ensued and might ensue to citizens of the United States in consequence of the non-operation of the Treaty of Com-

den, and requesting that the requisite orders should be issued, without delay, by the Swedish government, to the proper authority in their maritime ports, and especially at Gottenburg, not merely to put the treaty en vigueur, but to refund the duties which have been erroneously paid, in consequence of the delay against which I complained.

"Count d'Engeström, in his answer of to-day, informs me, that the necessary orders, have been issued, and that the measures I desired, have been adopted in both points of my note.

(Signed) C. HUGHES, jr.

C. A. Maury, esq. Consul, &c."

Boston, January 22.

The ship Persia, captain Williams, arrived here yesterday in 94 days from Malacca, &c. Malacca was given up to the Dutch the 21st of September, and the regulations were the same as at Batavia. J.

S. Thimmeman Thysson, esq. was governor for Batavia, and the Dutch rear admiral Wetterbeck, was there with the ships Tromp, 64, and Wilhelmmina frigate.

December 10th, St. Helena s. w. one mile, was boarded from one of his Britan-nic majesty's look-out sloops of war; the boarding officer said that Bonaparte was in good health, but getting daily more illa-tered. The squadron stationed there had been much afflicted with the dysentery, and had lost more than one man to filly. The flag ship had lost about 90 men.

London Nov. 29.

Attempts continue to be made to persuade the public that no plan has ever been in contemplation to effect the escape of Bonaparte. The fact however is certain. We insert the following, which has been received from an Officer on board the Musquito:

"His Majesty's ship Musquito, Spirithead, Nov. 8.

"We anchored here last evening, after a very good passage of 59 days from St.

Helena, having dispatched on board of very great importance, capt. Brine took a post chaise and four, and proceeded to the Admiralty immediately on our arrival. I should have written to you yesterday, but no communication was permitted between us and the shore until after the captain's arrival in London. Several letters have been discovered at St. Helena, directed to—

[we purposely omit the name] for Nepelean some of which contained several sums of money, for the purpose of effecting his escape. Several other persons have been likewise concerned, among whom is a gentleman who lately went from St. Helena with his family to England; they will all have been apprehended ere this. A fast-sailing privateer, supposed to be a South American, had been hovering off the Island for three or four weeks before we left, but I can assure you that the prisoner was then perfectly safe. I suppose you have had numerous reports about him—some people here believe him to be dead, and say that his body is on board of us—others, that he has made his escape. I think I have already told you of the sickness which has prevailed in the squadron at St. Helena; we have lost more than one third of our crew, and the Conqueror about 150 men."

Norfolk, January 20.

SPANISH AFFAIRS, &c.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT GIBRALTAR.

"The new ministry of Spain have set out with vigorous measures to uphold the dignity of their royal master, and if the fervor of their zeal can keep pace with its first embellishments, he will have to record ere long in the annals of his illustrious reign, some measures of state as important in the political chronicles as the renowned armada of an ancient predecessor.

"Great exertions are now making in Cadiz to fit out an expedition of 18,000 men for Buenos Ayres, to be under the command of General O'Donnell, (Count Abisbal,) who superintends the laborious duties of preparing it in person, and who would appear not to wish his blushing honors to come too thick upon him, for he enjoys the principle now in advance, having added to his numerous titles that of "Vice-Roy elect of Buenos Ayres!" The progress already made is reported to be about 5000 recruits, who are wanting every thing, and as much money as they can get by forced contributions from the merchants of Cadiz.

"The three frigates of 36 guns each, lately presented by the Russian Emperor, are held in readiness for the convey, and to provide transports on embargo is already laid in all the ports of the Peninsula upon Spanish vessels of 180 tons and upward!"

Of the probable time of its sailing you may perhaps form some idea from data already in your possession; but a matter of fact story may assist you in your conclusions. An agent is here who has contracted to furnish 25,000 water casks, and who is trying to collect the staves for the purpose; if he succeeds in this necessary preliminary, he says he can do the work before July, and that, in his opinion, will be time enough, for besides the men and material of the expedition to be collected, the provisions are to come from England and America. But to any man versed in the affairs of Spain, it is all idle gasconade to talk of this expedition, even with all the vigor and renown of the "Vice-Roy elect" to grace it. Millions will be expended in the preparation, despotic decrees be pronounced and enforced, the nation sink deeper in the vortex of imbecility and disgrace which already surrounds it, and this boasted measure of national greatness fall

"Like pedants periods to the ground, Very inanimate and very round."

"American vessels are ordered to be taken up by the government, as transports in the service and at great prices—ninety dollars per ton for six months, half to be paid at the time of sailing, and the balance in 2 and 3 months after proof of the performance of the voyage, with demerage at the rate of 12 dollars per ton, if longer detained in the service. It would require the rule of six 25 discount; Spanish dollars, $3 a 10 cent premium. (Charleston Times.)

fact of a letter received in Charleston, by the schooner Lucora, dated Havana, January 11.

"Rice is selling at 9 dollars, and is considered to be on the decline: flour sold on 9th at $20 75, but there has been several arrivals since with that article; butter, cents, and scarce; coffee, 23 a 26 cents; sugar, Muscovado, 84; molasses, 104 a 115. Exchange on the U. S. 25 per cent. em. 60 days. The schooner Carpenter, from, and sloop Thames, Allen, have arrived here from Charleston."

The people of Sweden flatter themselves with the hope of having very advantageous commercial relations established between them and Egypt. A beautiful coppered vessel has been lately launched from the docks in the harbor of Carlsrona, purchased for the Bashaw of Egypt. It will take a board a complete freight for Alexandria, consisting of cannon, bullets, and unwrought iron.

PIRACY.
Scarcely a mail reaches our city which does not furnish us with the melancholy achievements of a horde of heterogeneous incendiaries and banditti, composed of outlaws and vagabonds from the four quarters of the globe, who infect the common highway of nations, in privateers known to be belted out in different parts of the United States, and cruising under the Artigas and other flags. To the virtuous and upright mind, ever prone to look on the perpetration of robbery and murder with a chilling kind of horror, it is a matter of surprise and astonishment that the government has not taken prompt and decisive means in giving a death blow to the infamous system of piracy and buccannery among those lawless freebooters. Too long has the ocean swarmed with these pests—too long been the theatre of their gloomy exploits—it is time something was done to sweep them from it. We have frigates and smaller vessels of war, which if authorized, would speedily bring those rascals to condign punishment. Justice, the flagrant wrongs and injuries inflicted on the honest part of the mercantile community, imperiously demand the interposition of the government.

Had such outrages, such abominable excesses been committed by an Algerine, French, English, or vessel of any other nation, whose character would entitle her "to a home and a country," the tocsin would have been sounded from Main to Mississippi—the spirit of revenge to appease our violated rights would have been on the winds to the extremities of the continent—the same feeling which pervaded every American bosom, when the Leopard attacked the ill-fated Chesapeake would have been experienced with enthusiasm and fervor again.

There is a degree of benumbing torpor or insensibility and supineness on the part of those whose duty it is to watch over and protect the lives and property of our countrymen, which, we have in vain endeavored to account for. Why the Artigas pirates are suffered to murder and commit every species of villainous depredation indiscriminately, is matter of astonishment. He is no better and should be considered in no other light than a bandit. Many privateers sailing under that flag, have commissions (the fact can be proven) which were manufactured and printed in Baltimore, as were the commissions of the renowned Commodore Aury. To permit this system to be longer carried on is a disgrace to the nation, and unworthy the toleration of a free people, the fabric of whose independence was reared in peril and cemented with blood.

We trust that congress will immediately take the subject into consideration, and as "disapprobation of conduct is the order of the day," if they do nothing efficient towards putting down the freebooters of the seas, they will at least express their "disapprobation" of piracy. (Balt. Fed. Rep.)

On enquiry it appears, that the night the robbery was committed at my house, there was seen at Mr. Dennis Johnson's a black man, about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, dressed in white corded pantaloons, short boots, and dark big coat; and about the same time Mr. Johnson's house was broken open. Francis Johnson's new blue broad cloth coat taken, and his pocket knife and a pair of gloves; also Mr. William Johnson's pocket book, with about six dollars—the person went into Mrs. Johnson's room, and took three keys: Francis Johnson's knife was found with the trunks that were cut from the stage, and a biscuit that was in Mr. Carbin's big coat pocket was also found with the trunks. On the same evening there was a black man seen near my house by several of the neighbors, who left early in the night, of the same description of the one that was at Mr. Dennis Johnson's.

J. L. McKENNA, Cash'r.

"Treasury Department Dec. 8, 1818.

"Sir—By a regulation of the president, all public officers and agents holding public moneys whether collected by them or received by them to be disbursed, were required by them to keep the same in the Bank of the United States, or such of its offices as might be convenient to them; and where no offices are established, such moneys were to be kept in the banks authorized to receive the public deposits. In order to see that this regulation was complied with, and to ascertain the sums actually in the possession of such officers and agents from time to time, the Bank of the United States and its offices, and the other banks above mentioned, were instructed to note in the monthly returns, which they are required to render to this department of the state of their affairs, the amount standing in such banks to the credit of such officers or agents respectively. This instruction has not been attended to with sufficient exactness; and it has therefore, become necessary to recal the attention of the banks to the subject, and to request a more punctual compliance. This I now do.

"I have also to request, that if there be any public officer or agent in your vicinity, who omits to deposit the public moneys conformably to the above mentioned regulation you will report him, in order that the proper department may be informed of his omission. I am, &c."

PROPOSALS
for publishing by subscription,
Declaration of Independence,
ACCOMPANIED WITH PLATES;
To which will be annexed a history of the proceedings of congress during the passage of the law, and the Declaration itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures.
By PAUL ALLEN, Esq.

TO THE PUBLIC.
It seems a little surprising that amongst so many subjects as have been presented for American Biography, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to the Declaration of Independence have been overlooked or disregarded. The eyes of thousands have dwelt with rapture upon the document that announced to the world that "these United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free, sovereign, and independent states;" while we are better acquainted with the handwriting than with the characters of many of those illustrious men who have added their signatures to that instrument. The founders of the only remaining republic on the globe, have, with a few splendid exceptions, gone to their graves, and it behooves a generous posterity, sensible of their obligations, to preserve their fame. The longer we neglect the payment of so sacred a debt, the more difficult does the payment become.—Traits of individual character are fugitive and evanescent; and if they are not snatched by the hand of the Biographic Muse, at an early season, from the cold grasp of death, will soon partake of the oblivion of the body.—It is not the object of the present attempt, to deal in that profusion of indiscriminate and unparaphrased panegyric, so often and so falsely dignified with the name of Biography: we wish to represent the characters as they were; we stand in need of no panegyric; and we earnestly solicit from the surviving relations and friends of those revolutionary patriots all the information that will tend to a development of character. Man is the creature of circumstance, and we wish to show the progress of those patriots from their first resistance of colonial aggression, until they stood forth the noble and undaunted champions of their country's independence. All this can only be done by a familiar acquaintance with the lives of these men, and whoever of the surviving friends or relatives will furnish facts and circumstances in their possession to unfold and illustrate their characters, shall be entitled to a copy of the work as a recompense. It is contemplated, wherever it is practicable, further to embellish the meditated work with correct likenesses of the subjects of our biography, executed by the most eminent artists in the country. For this purpose we again solicit the assistance of their surviving relatives and friends. If they will transmit to the publisher any engraving or portrait from which a copy may be taken, the original shall be faithfully returned, and shall likewise be remunerated with a copy of the work. In the first number it is proposed to give an account of the Declaration of Independence, from the first motion that was made on the floor of congress until its final passage into a law, a period embracing much curious and secret history; finally, we promise to add to our last number the Declaration of Independence itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures. We have now compendiously stated the objects of our present undertaking, and we hope that it will be unnecessary to mention that no exertions on our part shall be spared.

The public are now in possession of our project, which does indeed seem to be demanded, by the avidity so recently displayed for the possession of the Declaration of Independence, since it is of very little importance to become acquainted with a man's hand writing without a previous knowledge of the man. The secret history of our Declaration of Independence, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to that instrument, accompanied by their likenesses, and finally the Declaration itself with fac-similes of the signatures, will bring into one compact view the prominent facts of that interesting crisis.

CONDITIONS.
I. The work will be published in numbers, or half volumes, of 150 pages octavo, and will be contained in ten numbers.
II. It will be printed on fine paper made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per half volume or number, payable on delivery.
Subscriptions will be received at the office of the Alexandria Gazette.

BY virtue of a decree of the court of the United States for the fifth circuit in the Virginia district, in a suit in chancery, wherein Mary Wormeley, wife of Hugh Wallace Wormeley, by George F. Strother her next friend, and John S. Wormeley, Mary W. Wormeley, Jane B. Wormeley, and Anne B. Wormeley, infant children of the said Mary and Hugh W. by the said George F. Strother their next friend plaintiffs, against Hugh Wallace Wormeley, Thomas Strode, Richard Veitch, David Castleman and Charles McCormick, defendants, will be sold at public auction on the third day of February next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, on the premises, containing 300 acres, and also the reversion of fifty acres adjoining the same tract of 300 acres, lying and being in the county of Frederick and state of Virginia, situate on the north side of the Shenandoah river, and adjoining the said river about two miles below Snickers' ferry—one hundred acres of which is finely timbered, and the whole tract well watered with a never-failing spring; the buildings are an excellent dwelling house, with other suitable outbuildings, a good barn, corn house, blacksmith's shop, stable, &c. &c.

A Tract of Land
This land, I am told, has for the last seven years been highly improved with clover and plaster of Paris; upon the whole it is considered to be one among the best farms in the county, combining all the advantages of good society, salubrity of climate and fertility of soil. Terms of sale will be as follows: three thousand dollars in cash, or a negotiable note with an endorser or endorser to be approved of by the marshal of the said district, or his deputy who may act, and payable at one of the branches of the Farmers' bank of Virginia at Winchester, and the residue of the purchase money in three equal payments of one, two and three years; the purchaser or purchasers giving bonds and security or securities, to be approved of by the marshal or his deputy, with a deed of trust on the said land so sold, as a further security for the payments of the said bonds.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 9,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in blue tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of five fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvasbacks, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Rides, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.
THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomas Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—It would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.
